A meeting of the Accounting Department junior recruiting committee (5 members) was convened. Members that could not attend were asked to forward their opinions on the candidates.

We received completed applications from 4 applicants:

- OMISSIS
- OMISSIS
- Francesco Grossetti
- OMISSIS

Our job call made clear we wanted a candidate with a strong background in data analytics and coding to support our new teaching and research interests.

The first candidate OMISSIS

The second candidate OMISSIS

The final candidate OMISSIS

The third candidate in the list, Francesco Grossetti had been a post-graduate in the department and so we spent extra time looking closely at the reports of the two independent external referees. Both referees who are leaders in their research areas (one Italian, one American) were very complimentary of his ability. Given his doctoral thesis using medical statistics big data we adjudged his background to be closest to our teaching and research needs. Francesco Grossetti received the unanimous votes of the committee.
