Final Report – Milan, March 5th 2019 (by the committee coordinator, Vincenzo Galasso)

Summary: The Committee scrutinized the applications received for the position of Assistant Professor. The first selection was made on the basis of the CV and additional materials provided by the candidates in order to assess the fulfilment of the formal conditions for application. In a second stage, candidates were selected according to the quantity and quality of their scientific production. This step was necessary in order to assess the probability of a successful tenure track given the present tenure requirements at Bocconi (as from the job opening: “applicants should have a trajectory that suggests a tenurable research record is likely”).

The search committee planned to interview selected candidates at the ASSA meetings in Atlanta on January 3-7, 2019. Three of the selected candidates, who were not attending the meetings, asked to be interviewed in Bocconi. We thus interviewed three candidates in Bocconi in December 2018 and nineteen candidates at the ASSA meetings in January 2019.

From this excellent pool of twenty-two candidates, the search committee invited to Bocconi for a campus visit nine candidates (in the order they visited Bocconi): Giulia Giupponi, OMISSIS.

After a thoroughly discussion, based on the evaluations of the performance of the different candidates during the campus visit, on their fit with the department and with the object of the call, the Committee unanimously agreed to make an offer to Giulia Giupponi, who accepted.

Evaluations:

OMISSIS

Giulia Giupponi is completing a Ph.D. in Public and Labor Economics from London School of Economics (expected completion date: 2019). The candidate's research concentrates in Public Economics and Labor Economics. The committee invited the candidate for an interview and then for a fly-out. The evaluation of the candidate after the seminar and the interviews with the faculty was excellent. She was offered the position.
