

Bocconi University – position of Assistant Professor in Criminal Law at the Department of Legal Studies

The Department of Legal Studies invites applications from outstanding scholars for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Criminal Law, beginning spring 2020. Albeit we welcome applications in the whole area of Criminal Law, preference will be given to candidates having a specific research focus on Economic and Financial Crime, as well as White-Collar Crime. Applicants should have an adequate track-record of publications in the field of Criminal Law, a Ph.D. and/or a LLM, and demonstrate a strong potential in research on both the general part and the special part of Criminal Law. Applicants must also demonstrate aptitude for carrying out research and teaching activities at a supranational level, for example by showing proof of studies and research periods abroad, or by holding courses taught in English.

We offer a dynamic research and teaching environment, state-of-the art facilities and research and teaching resources and funding in line with primary European institutions. Compensation is competitive with top Law Schools and Universities.

Applications should be submitted online via E-Form available at www.unibocconi.eu/jobmarket.

The deadline for submissions is November 30, 2019 at 24.00 (Italian time)

Bocconi University values diversity and pluralism and is committed to equal employment and educational opportunities without regard to age, race, color, national origin, ethnicity, religion, gender, sex, marital status, parental status or status as an individual with disabilities.